What are my options for Purchasing shares via Electronic Funds Transfers (EFT), Pre-authorized Credit and Direct Deposit Privilege?

You may purchase shares of the U.S. Government Portfolio by having salary, dividend payments, interest payments or any other payments designated by you, including federal salary, social security, or certain veteran's, military or other payments from the federal government, automatically deposited into your account (minimum of $50). You can also have money debited from your checking account. To enroll in any one of these programs, please contact your broker or SASI for the appropriate form.

Redeeming shares of the U.S. Government Portfolio

How are redemptions of the U.S. Government Portfolio Processed?

A redemption is effected immediately following, and at a price determined in accordance with, the next determination of net asset value per share of the U.S. Government Portfolio following receipt by SASI of the redemption order (and any supporting documentation that SASI may require).

Payment for redeemed shares is generally made on the next Fund Business Day. However, redemption payments will not be paid out unless the check (including a certified or cashier's check) used for investment has been cleared for payment by the investor's bank, which could take up to 15 days after investment.

Written requests for redemptions may be made to:

How do I obtain and use checks to effect redemptions of the U.S. Government Portfolio?

Shareholders may request a supply of checks that may be used to effect redemptions from the U.S. Government Portfolio. The checks, which will be issued in the shareholder's name, are drawn on a special account maintained by SASI with its agent bank. Checks may be drawn in any amount of $250 or more. Checks provided by SASI may not be certified. Investors who purchase shares in the U.S. Government Portfolio by check may not receive their redemption proceeds until the check has cleared, which can take up to 15 days following the date of purchase. SASI reserves the right to impose a charge or impose a different minimum check amount in the future.

Shareholders electing the checking option are subject to the procedures, rules and regulations of SASI's agent bank governing checking accounts. Checks drawn on a jointly owned account may, at the shareholder's election, require only one signature. Checks in amounts exceeding the value of the shareholder's account at the time the check is presented for payment may not be honored. SASI provides overdraft protection by automatically transferring available funds from your other identically registered accounts if you have available balances. A fee of $30 will be charged to the account when funds are transferred from protecting account(s) to cover an overdraft. Transferred funds are treated like a sale or exchange of shares of the Sentinel Fund from which they are transferred, including for redemption fee purposes. New checkbooks cannot be ordered within 30 days of an address change without a signature guarantee.

Since the dollar value of the account changes daily, the total value of the account may not be determined in advance and the account may not be entirely redeemed by check. SASI reserves the right to charge the shareholder's account a fee of $25 for checks not honored as a result of an insufficient account value, a check deemed not negotiable because it has been held longer than six months, an unsigned check and/or a post-dated check. SASI reserves the right to terminate or modify the check redemption procedure at any time or to impose additional fees following notification to investors in U.S. Government Portfolio whose accounts are maintained through SASI.

Please contact SASI for additional information about redemptions from the U.S. Government Portfolio through a checking account.

How do I redeem shares by telephone?

SASI accepts telephone requests for redemption from shareholders who elect this option on their application. The proceeds of a telephone redemption may be sent to the shareholder at their address of record or, if in excess of $1,000, to their bank accounts, both as set forth in the application or in a subsequent signature guaranteed written authorization. SASI may accept telephone redemption instructions from any person who SASI reasonably believes is authorized with respect to accounts of shareholders who elect this service and thus such shareholders risk possible loss of principal and interest in the event of a telephone redemption not authorized by them. For telephone requests for wire redemptions, SASI charges a $20 fee.

A shareholder making a telephone withdrawal should call SASI at 800.282.3863. Usually the proceeds are sent to the designated bank account or address of record on the next Fund Business Day. SASI may modify or discontinue the telephone redemption option at any time and will notify shareholders accordingly.

Please contact SASI for additional information regarding redemptions of shares of the U.S. Government Portfolio by telephone.

Reinvestment Privileges for Redeeming Shares to purchase a Sentinel Fund

What are my Reinvestment Privileges purchasing a Sentinel Fund with redemption proceeds?

Investors in the U.S. Government Portfolio may direct SASI to redeem their shares of the U.S. Government Portfolio and directly use the proceeds of such redemption to purchase shares of a Sentinel Fund (a "reinvestment").

Generally, the purchase of such shares of a Sentinel Fund pursuant to a reinvestment will be subject to all applicable fees and expenses of the applicable Sentinel Fund; however certain waivers of sales charges will apply to direct reinvestments of redemption proceeds of U.S. Government Portfolio shares into a Sentinel Fund as described below:

- o Investors in the U.S. Government Portfolio who maintain their accounts through SASI who obtained such shares by using proceeds of a redemption of Class A shares of a Sentinel Fund that were subject to a front-end sales charge may direct that the proceeds of a redemption of such shares of the U.S. Government Portfolio be used to directly purchase Class A shares of a Sentinel Fund, and such Class A shares of the Sentinel Fund will not be subject to a front-end sales charge or a CDSC.
- o Investors in Sentinel Funds may redeem Class B and Class D shares of such funds (as well as Class A shares that are subject to a CDSC) and direct that such proceeds be used to directly purchase shares of the U.S. Government Portfolio upon payment of any applicable CDSC. Upon the redemption of the shares of the U.S. Government Portfolio received in connection with such a purchase, an investor may direct that the proceeds of the redemption be used to directly purchase Class A shares of a Sentinel Fund, and such Class A shares of the Sentinel Fund will not be subject to a front-end sales charge or a CDSC.
- o Investors in Sentinel Funds may redeem Class C shares of such funds and direct that such proceeds be used to directly purchase shares of the U.S. Government Portfolio upon payment of any applicable CDSC. Upon the redemption of the shares of the U.S. Government Portfolio received in connection with such a purchase, an investor may direct that the proceeds of the redemption be used to directly purchase Class C shares of a Sentinel Fund, and such Class C shares of the Sentinel Fund will not be subject to a front-end sales charge or a CDSC.

How do I exercise my Reinvestment Privileges to purchase shares of a Sentinel Fund?

Reinvestment requests may be made by phoning SASI or by providing appropriate instructions in writing to SASI. You may also set up your account to reinvest automatically a specified number or dollar-value of shares in the U.S Government Portfolio for shares of the Sentinel Funds at regular intervals. Reinvestments may be restricted in accordance with the Sentinel Funds prospectus. New purchases must remain in an account for 15 days before they can be reinvested.

The reinvestment privilege is available to shareholders resident in any state in which shares of the fund being acquired may legally be sold. Before making a reinvestment, an investor should review the current prospectus of the fund into which the reinvestment is to be made. A reinvestment will be a taxable event to the shareholder making such reinvestment.

Instructions for reinvestments may be made by sending a written request to:

Sentinel Administrative Services, Inc.
Re: Daily Income Fund
PO Box 1499
Montpelier VT 05601-1499

Or, for shareholders who have elected that option, by telephoning SASI at 800.282.3863. SASI reserves the right to reject any reinvestment request and may modify or terminate the reinvestment privilege at any time.

Please contact SASI for additional information regarding reinvestment privileges with respect to shares of the U.S. Government Portfolio.

We hope the above summary answers your questions about shares of the U.S. Government Portfolio held in an account serviced by SASI. Please do not hesitate to contact us at (800-282-3863) if we can be of further service.
